

Production Technician Training

Manufacturing jobs are on the rise! In 2020, manufacturing was among the industries with the largest number of job openings in Cecil and Harford Counties – and these jobs are projected to grow. Many of the largest private employers in the region are manufacturers, and the industry offers one of the highest average weekly wages in this region.

The Susquehanna Workforce Network, Inc. in collaboration with Harford Community College is offering a six-week program that leads to Production Technician positions.

Training includes:

- Basic Machining
- Print Reading
- Maintenance Shop Skills
- Hydraulics/Pneumatic Controls
- Basic Electricity
- Motor Controls
- Forklift Operator
- Résumé Creation
- Interview Preparation

Training Period:
